THE 1952 MADISONIAN

Theron Kelsall

The Madisonian of 1952

A school is composed of many things--classes, instructors, students; the laughter in the halls, the groans of freshmen at initiation; nervous pacing before the curtain parts for a class play, pin curls hidden beneath head scarves the day of the prom; the Seniors of '52 present to you the MADISONIAN--an inside view of your school.

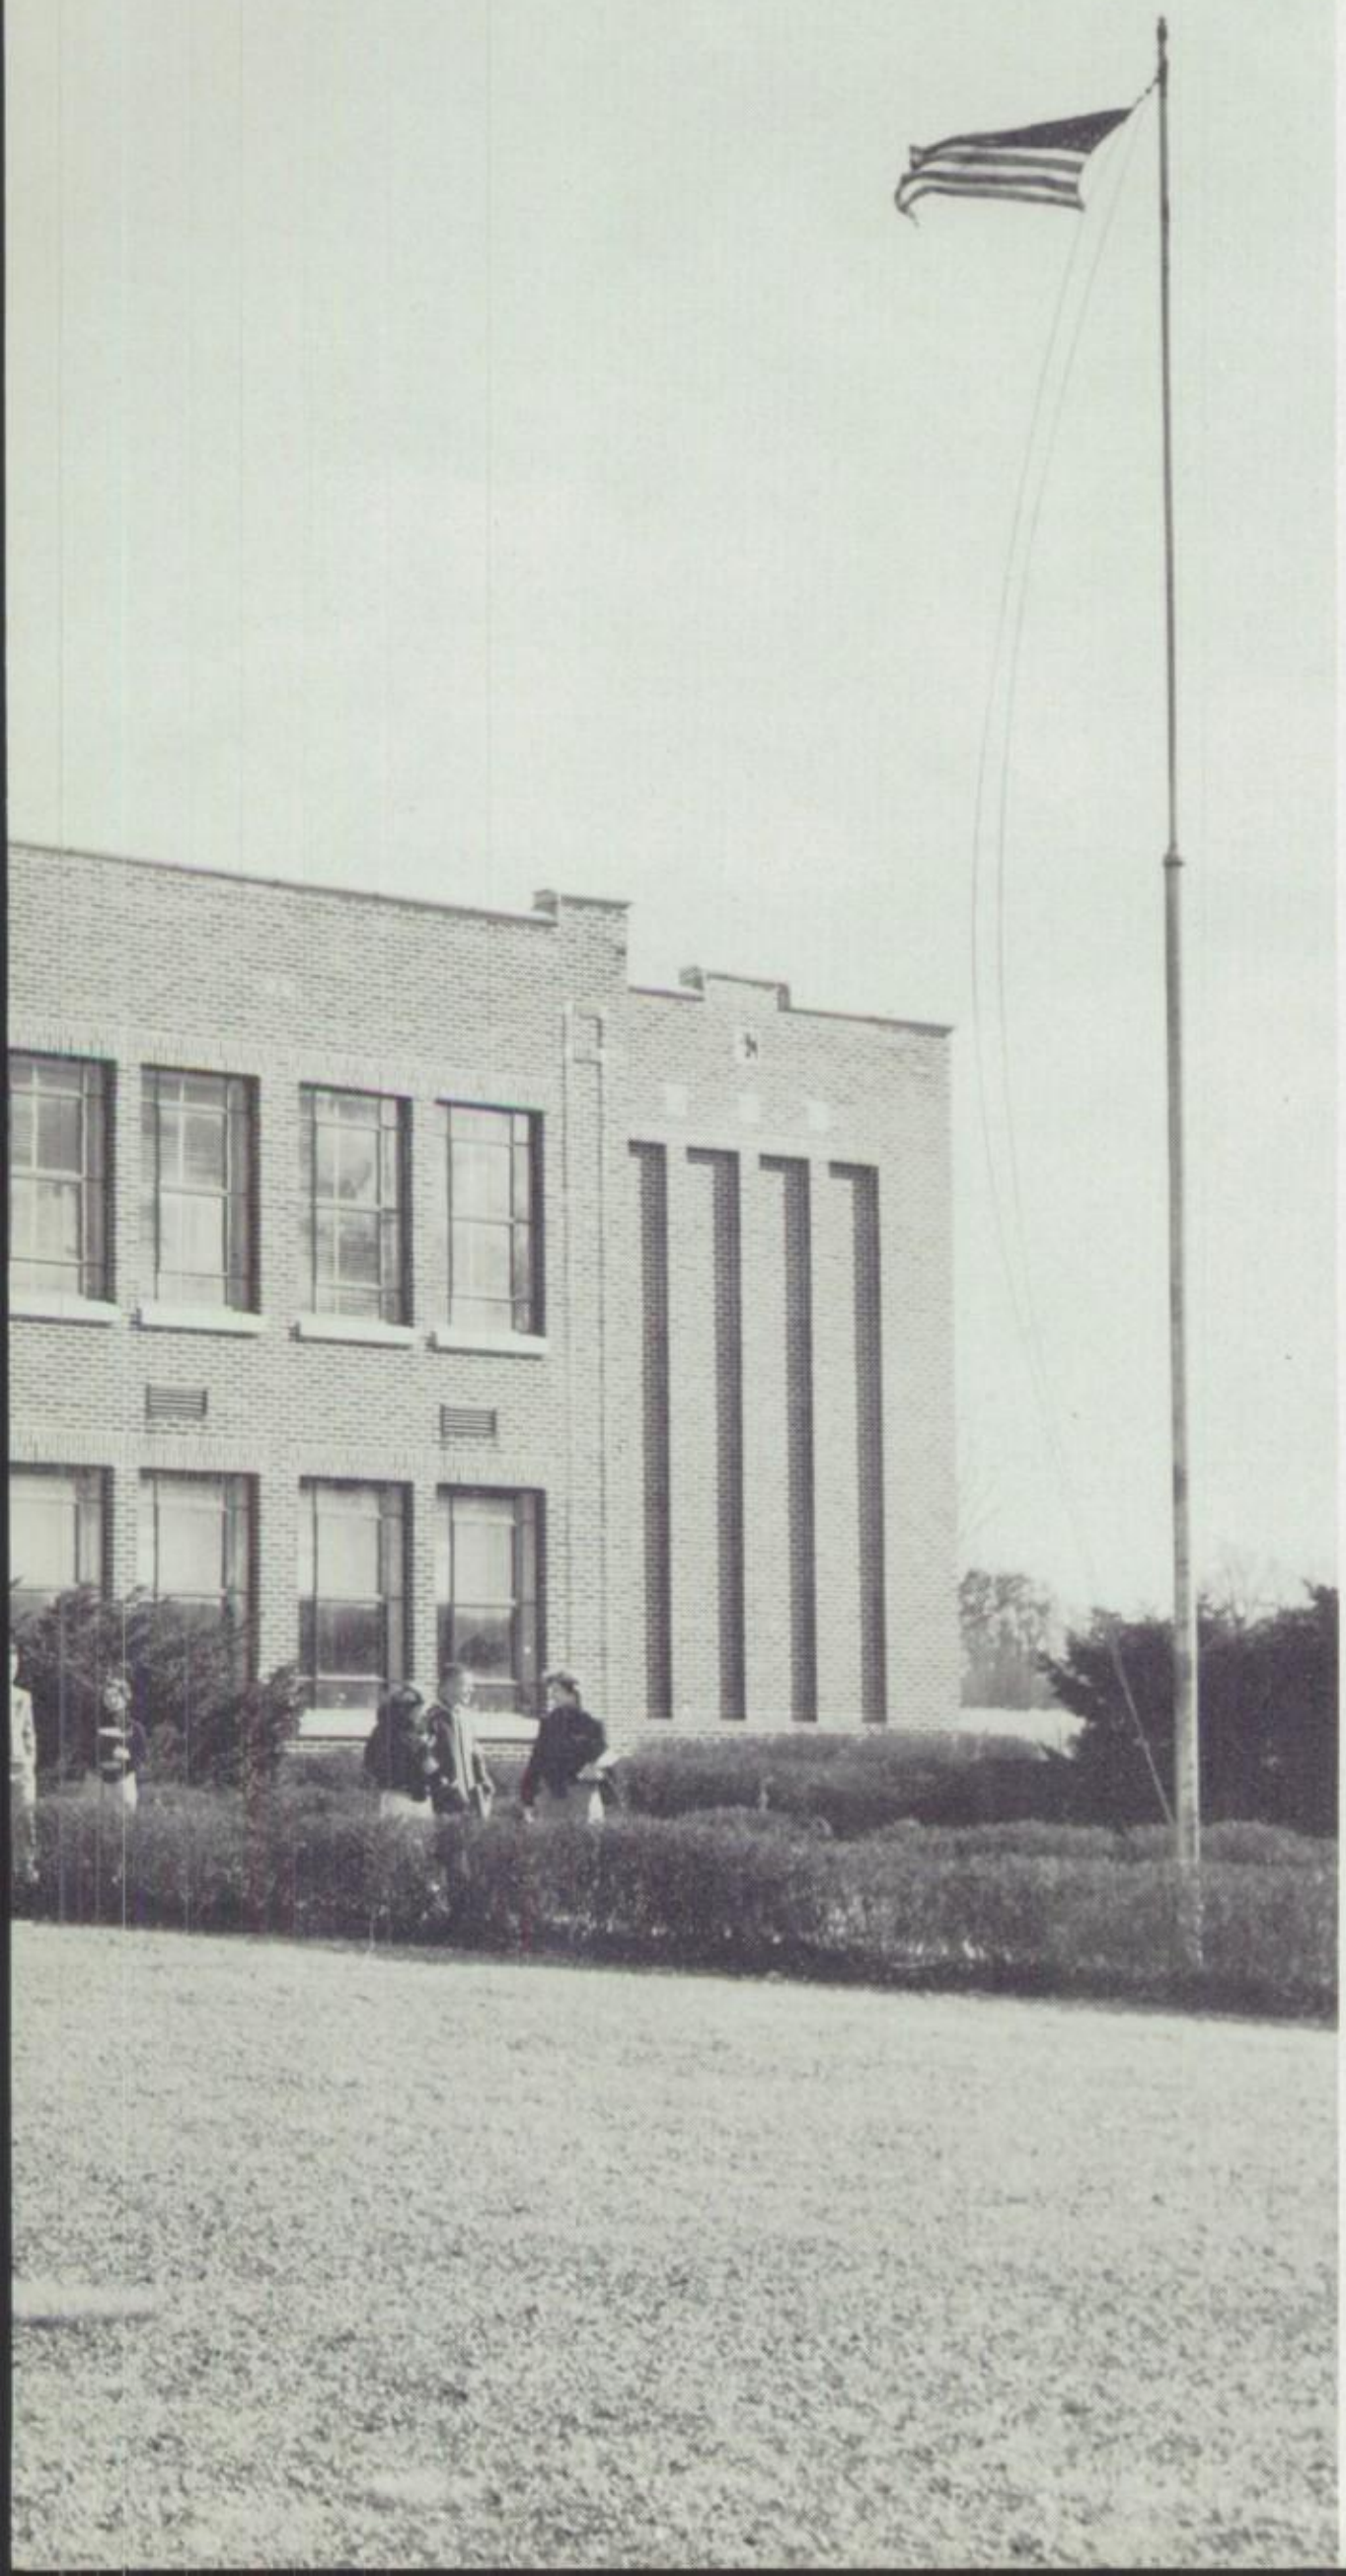
MADISON TOWNSHIP
HIGH SCHOOL



DEDICATION

This Book is dedicated to the education of all youth in America -- to their success in making our world a better place in which all future generations may live safely and peacefully.

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. W. D. Eshelman
Principal

The man responsible for the organization of our school, direction of teachers, and counselling of students is Principal W. D. Eshelman. M.H.S. reflects the high standards that Mr. Eshelman holds for his school. When problems have caused us to seek his counsel, we have found in Mr. Eshelman a friend and philosopher who always offers the best of advice and guidance.

The Advisory Board consists of Mr. John Mottice, Mr. Jarius Loucks, Mr. Clem Mochel and Mr. Ralph J. Hummel, Trustee. This board plans improvements, equipment, and budgets, giving generously of their time and thought for the well-being of Madison students.

SENIORS

National Honor

In Judging

National recognition came to Madison Township in the fall of '51 through this foursome who composed the F.F.A. livestock judging team. The team, made up of Harold Zeltwanger, Eldon Fredericks, James Schmeltz and Wayne Beehler, placed first among the F.F.A. teams of Indiana and in the silver emblem group in the national contest at Kansas City, Missouri. Pictured at the right with the group is their coach, J. D. Kintzel.

CLASS OF '52

Whether it is planning the class trip or choosing graduation announcements the Senior Class officers take an active and important part. Working out some problems here are Jack Schmeltz, President, Lowell Schrock, Treasurer, James Davidhizar, Vice-President, and Shirley Birk, Secretary.

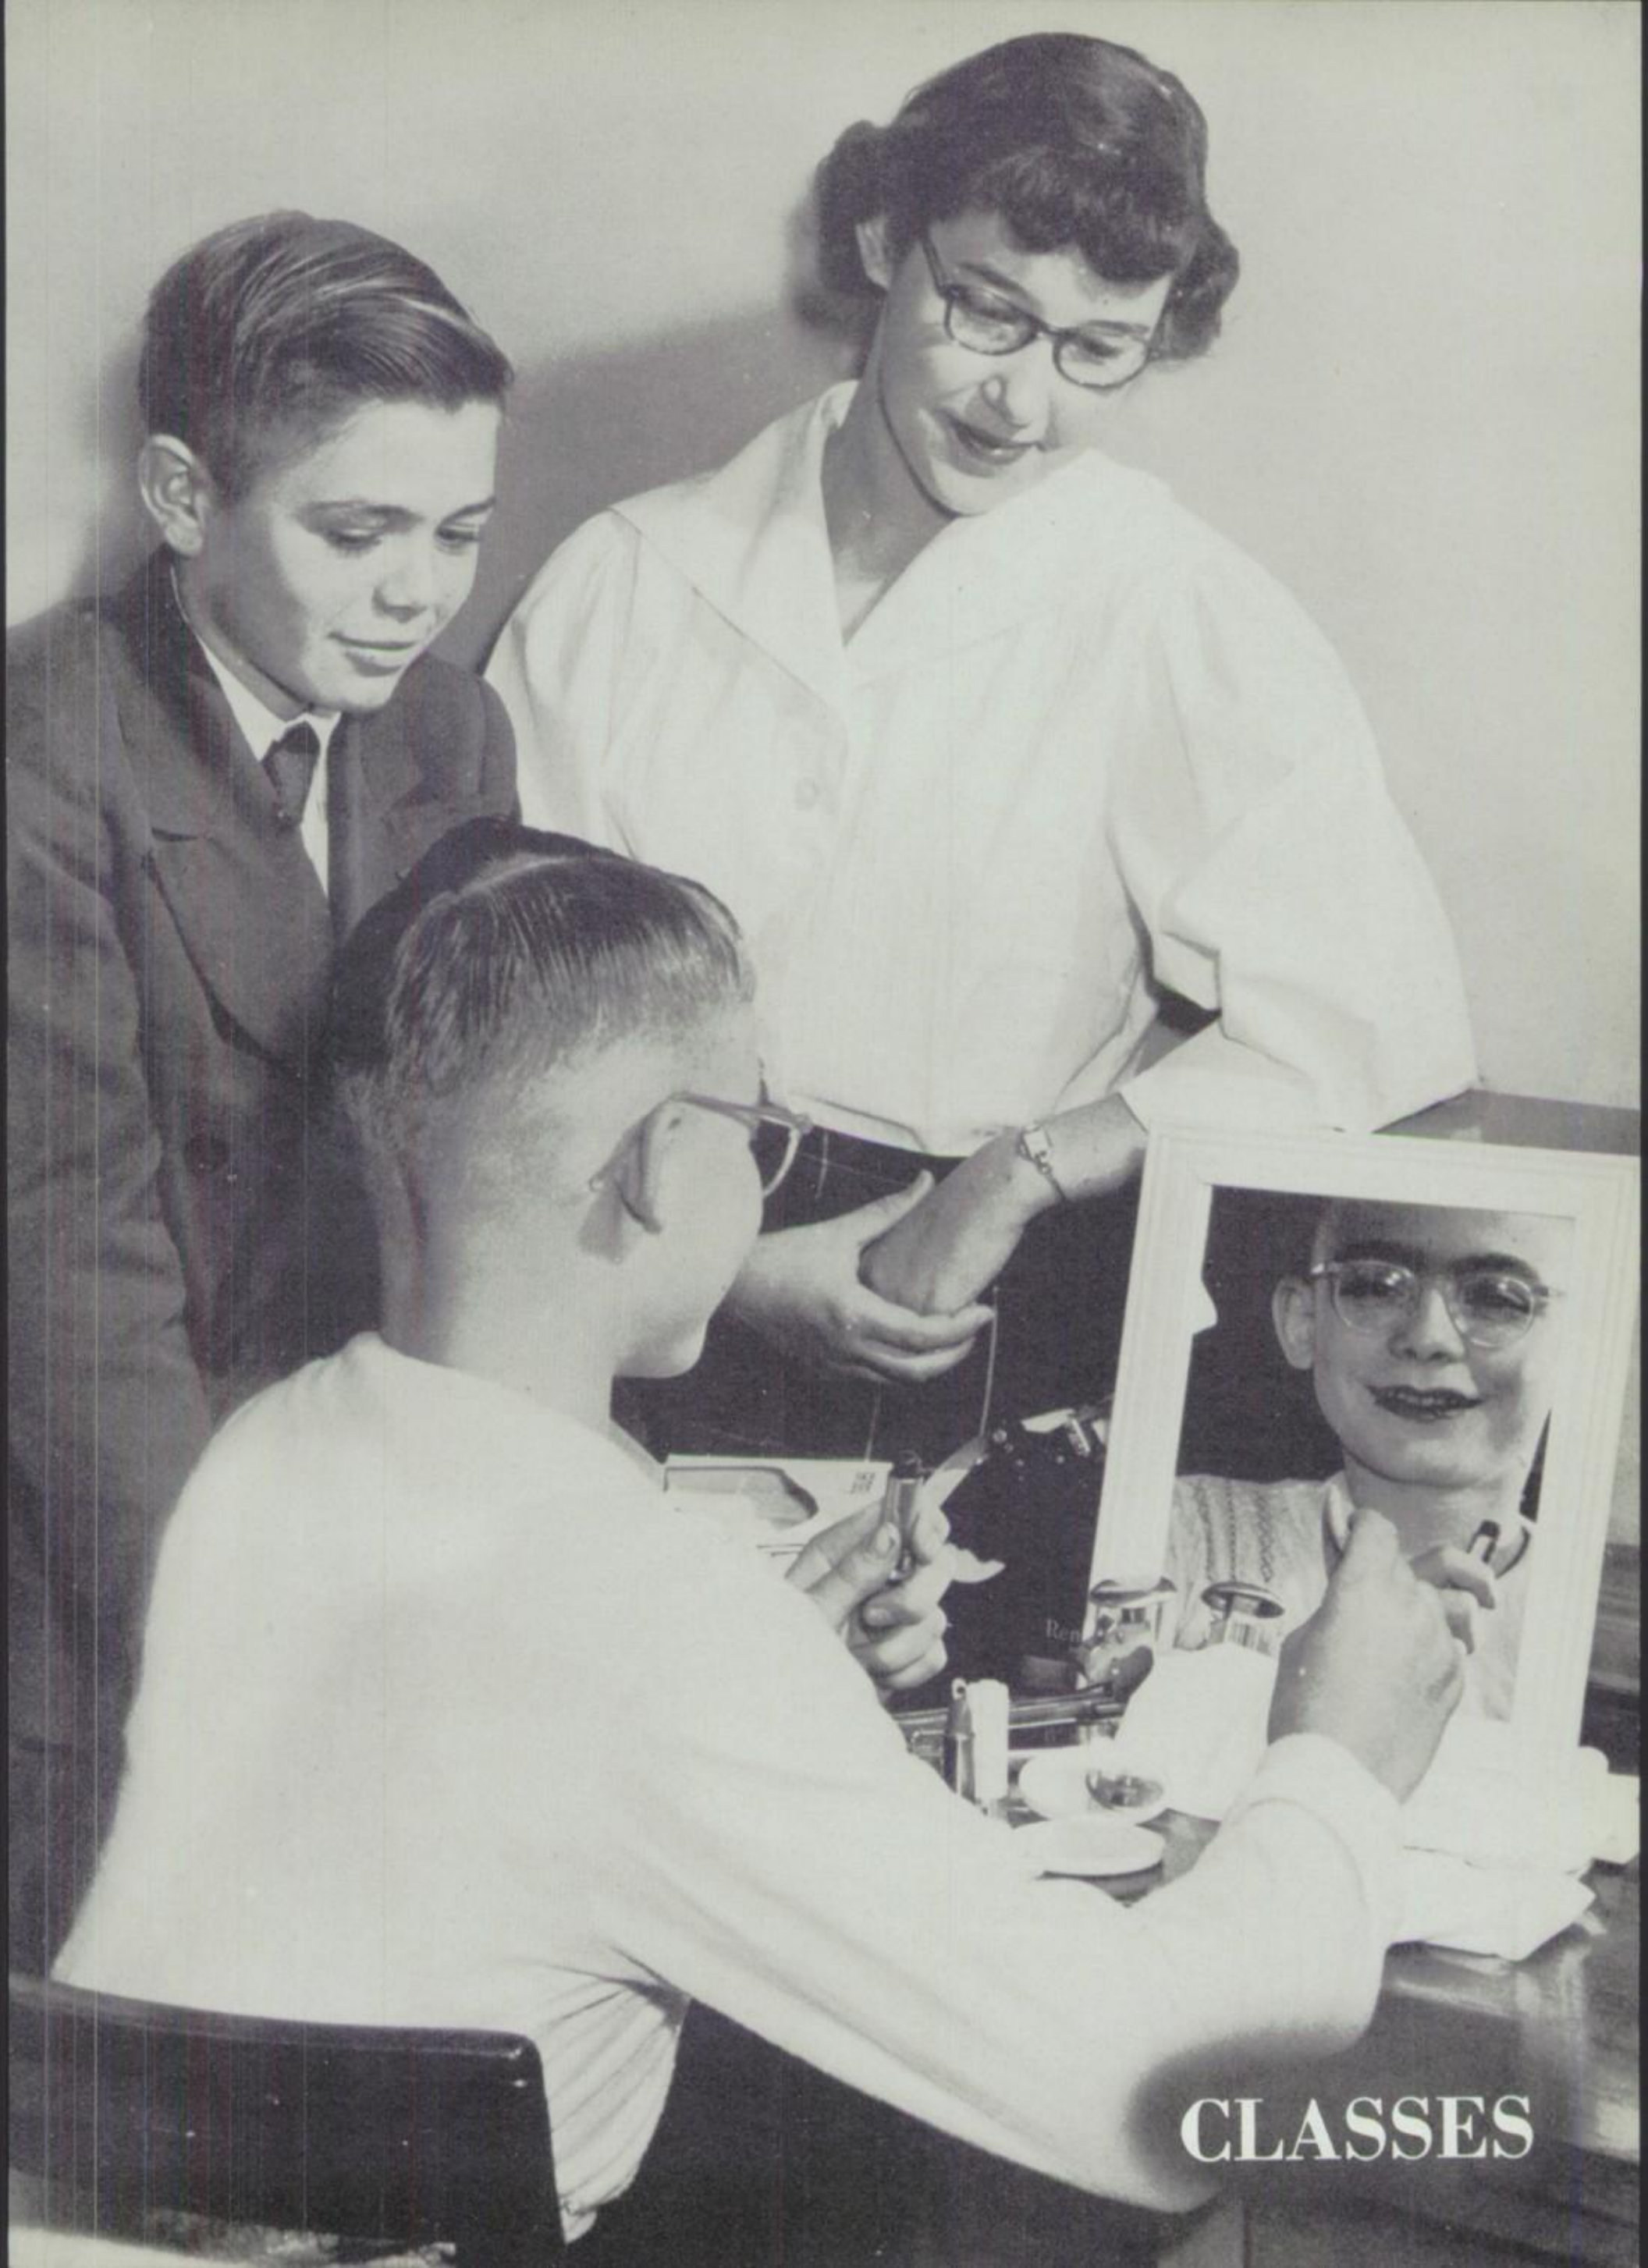
CLASSES ELECT OFFICERS

To launch their high school careers the Freshmen placed their confidence in this foursome in the hope that they would lead the new "Madisonites" safely through the first year. Seated are Mary Ellen Carbiener, Secretary, and Dale Pittman, President. Looking on are Craig Kintzel, Vice-President, and Marlene Fredericks, Treasurer.

The Sophomores are preparing themselves for bigger and better things to come during their Junior and Senior years. Their officers for the year included Lester Manges, President, James Pittman, Treasurer, Dixie Kelly, Secretary, and Roland Jordan, Vice-President.

The Juniors find that they need capable leaders for carrying out class activities such as their class play and the Junior-Senior Prom. To lead them this year they chose Suzanne Loucks, Secretary, Ronald Berkey, Vice-President, Dale Mochel, President and Nada Kulczar, Treasurer.

Sponsored by Smith Chevrolet, Wakarusa.



CLASSES

CLASS OF '53

Thirty six ambitious juniors met in September and chose their leaders for 1951-1952. They elected as President, Dale Mochel; Vice-President, Ronald Berkey; Secretary, Suzanne Loucks; and Treasurer, Nada Kulczar. On October 22 and 23 their dramatic talent was displayed by the Junior Class play, "The Whiz Kids", which was directed by Mrs. Haslanger. The climax of their activities was the Junior-Senior Prom held in the spring.

LEARNING BY DOING

Madison is proud of its Home Economics department and of the opportunity it provides for our future homemakers. Here, part of the Junior Foods Staff, keeps in mind the old adage: The way to a man's heart is through his stomach."

Practice makes perfect, so fingers fly and keys click rapidly; results--40 words per minute for first year typists. Marvin Pittman substitutes for Mrs. Arndt while she helps take Madisonian pictures.

The work shop at Madison always buzzes with activity. Projects such as building gates, hog houses, refinishing furniture, and repairing farm equipment are common undertakings for the agriculture boys.

ACTIVITIES

GIRLS' CHORUS

The Girls' Chorus was again ably directed by Mrs. Mary Meeks. The main activity for the thirty-two members was the two-act operetta, "Ask the Professor", given with the assistance of the Boys' Chorus in the spring. The operetta told the story of Maryida's trials and tribulations in obtaining a college education and how she succeeded. The climax was that Maryida was crowned queen of the commencement festivities.

The Girls' Chorus presented musical numbers for various school programs including the Baccalaureate service for the departing seniors.

Sponsored by Metzler's Grocery, Wakarusa

AT RIGHT, the entire group joins Mrs. Meeks in informal singing. They are accompanied by Shirley Billman.

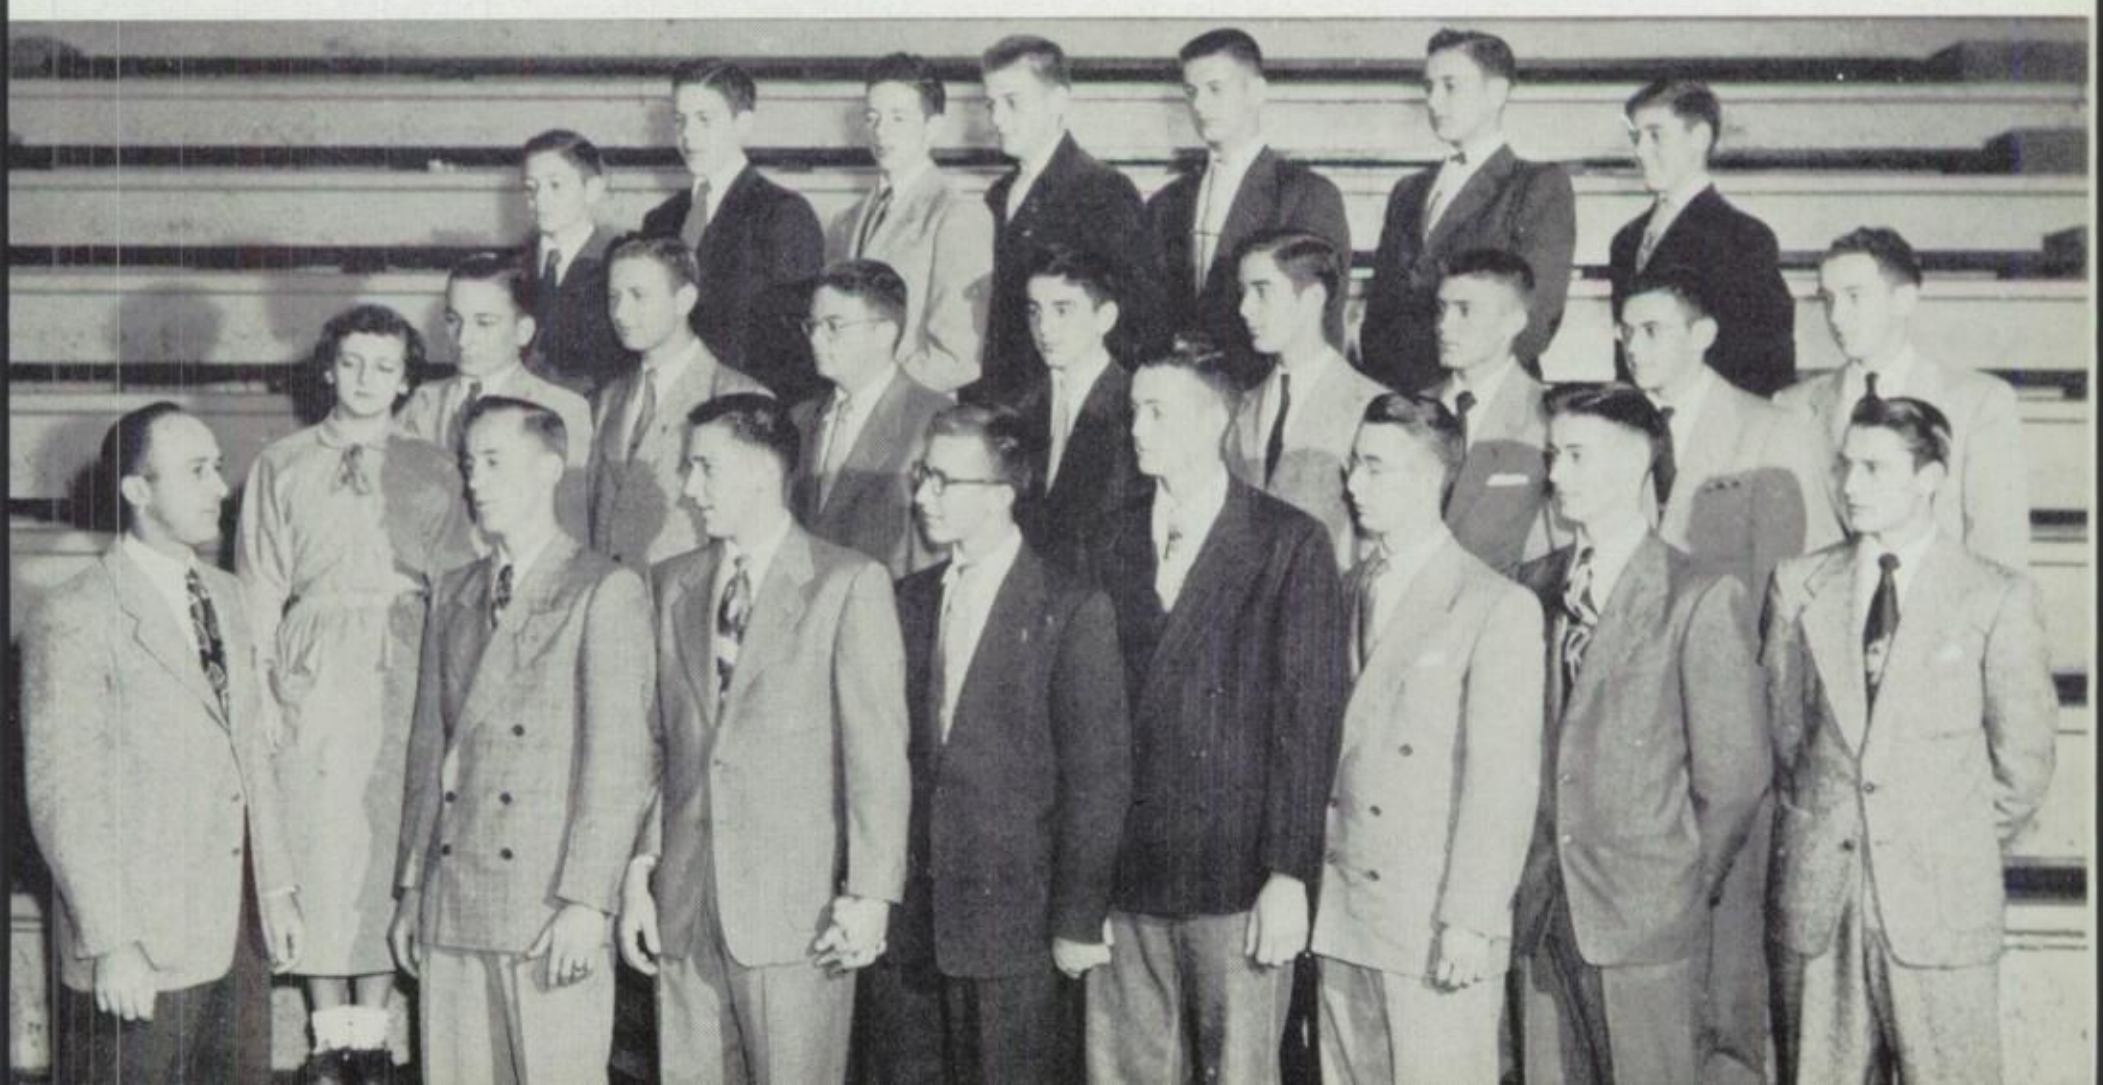
BOYS' CHORUS

The Boys' Chorus at Madison proceeded through its third year by participating in various school programs which included the operetta and fall band concert. The Chorus is directed by Mr. Edgar Horein and accompanied by Jane Schurr.



BAND

Sixty-three blue-clad members of Madison's band stepped lively through an active year under the direction of Mr. Edgar Horein. The band made money to purchase new uniforms by sponsoring bake sales, scrap and paper drives, several band concerts, and an ice cream social.

The band participated in the Memorial Day parade at Mishawaka, provided music at the home basketball games, and marched at the State Fireman's Convention held at Bremen, Indiana in June, 1951.

The marching band was led by twirlers, Jane Haines, Jerry Kline, Merrylin Priest, Bette Stahley, and drum majorette, Mary Ellen Carbiener. This group appeared regularly during the halves of the first team basketball games.

One of the service projects the Y-Teens conducts is that of sending chocolate to children overseas. Here club members work during their spare moments to gaily wrap packages headed for Germany. L. to R.: M. Kobold, E. Stewart, M. Newhouse, J. Weigel, W. Stuber and M. Coddens.

Y-TEENS

The forty eight members of the Y-Teen club meet every other Friday of the month and are under the direction of Mrs. Haslanger.

Club projects were selling candy, plastic towels, Christmas cards, and concessions at the basketball games. They also sponsored a skating party in February.

The annual dance given in co-operation with the Hi-Y was held on November 23, 1951. Bob Widmar and his orchestra provided the music for the "Harvest Moon Ball."

The Y-Teen girls always try to live up to their goals -- to grow as a person; to grow in friendship with people of all races, religions, and nationalities; and to grow in the knowledge and love of God.

Officers for 1951-1952 were President, Patricia Abbiehl; Vice-President, Doris Schmeltz; Secretary Suzanne Louches and Treasurer, Shirley Birk.

HI-Y

The Hi-Y, a social and service organization, boasts 38 members. According to tradition, the boys provided several interesting assembly programs, the boys provided several interesting assembly programs, joined the Y-Teens in sponsoring the "Harvest Moon Ball", and sold pop at basketball games. Jack Schmeltz was this year's president, James Schmeltz served as vice-president, Eldon Fredericks counted the money and Dale Hesch wrote up the minutes of the meetings Gene Manges was chaplain and Richard Getz acted as sargeant-at- arms. Mr. John Mouros was faculty advisor.

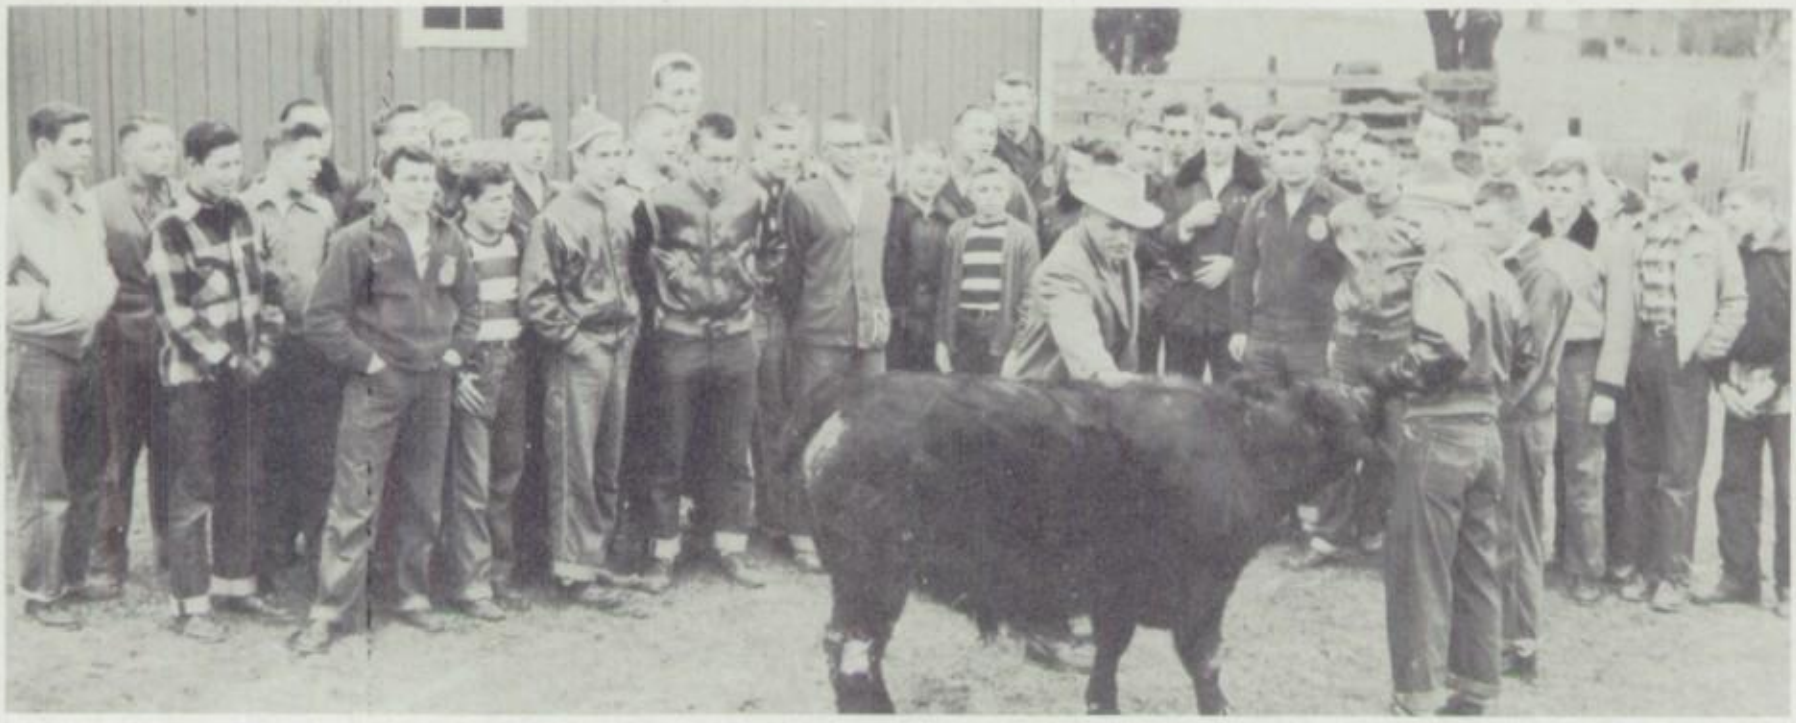
F. H. A.

The officers of F. H. A., which has been in existence for three years at Madison, enjoy a tea in the Home Economics Laboratory. Since our F. H. A. was not previously recognized by the state, the main objective for the year was to become a chapter. The club activities were directed by Mrs. Marian Kintzel, Home Economics instructor.

Models Doris Berkey, Wilda Swarm, Ann Birk and Doris Schmeltz were chosen with 16 others from various county schools to model at the fashion show at Robertson's. Madison 4-H members receiving honorable mention look on while the models display their winning costumes.



F.F.A.

The Madison Township Future Farmers of America chapter was very active this year. Here the membership receive pointers on judging from their advisor, Mr. J. D. Kintzel. Two judging teams competed for honors at the Indiana State Fair. From there the livestock judging team went on to the National Contest at Kansas City, Missouri, where they placed in the silver emblem group. President, Jim Schmeltz received individual recognition by placing in the gold medal group.

Madisonian

Pictures for the '52 Madisonian are selected by these senior staff members. Actually the picture on the left is a big bluff; previews of pictures were forbidden by Editor Coddens and Sponsor Arndt.

The sales campaign gets underway as seniors Ann Birk, Eldon Fredericks, and Gene Manges put their heads together to cook up a new advertising slogan.

"THE WHIZ KIDS"

These "Whiz Kids" are a whiz at thinking of tricks and jokes to be played on unsuspecting house guests. Here the "Whiz Kids", played by Jane Schurr and Louis Swarm, are plotting their mischief and thinking of the intended victims.

The junior class play entitled "The Whiz Kids" was presented October 22 and 23. The three-act comedy was directed by Mrs. Pearl Haslanger. The plot revolved around the tricks which the "Whiz Kids" played on Amy and Archer Kingsley, Burwell Underhill, and Glad Tydings. The members of the cast were: Harold Zeltwanger, Nila Marker, Joyce Weigel, Jane Schurr, Louis Swarm, Nancy Jo McGowen, James Rhoade, Doris Schmeltz, Edward Sheets, Dale Mochel, Shirley Billman, Nancy Kay Marker, and Dwight Laidig.

OUR EDITOR

Is that really she? Yes, it's M.A.C. or Mary Alice Coddens, our versatile Madisonian editor. Mary Alice adds touches of art work to increase the attractiveness of many classrooms. Here she is adding a note of Christmas to the commercial room. She is well-known for her art work as well as for her editing of the Madisonian.

OUR TWINS

WHAT'S COOKIN'?

An investigation seems to be in progress, but it is only curiosity and not hunger. Jim Geyer, Stanley Hoover, and Richard Getz take stock of the cafeteria refrigerator.

Appetites are their business, and the students of Madison appreciate the expertness this kitchen staff uses each day to prepare the cafeteria lunches. Shown here are Mrs. Kintzel, Mrs. Walters, Mrs. Mutti, and Mrs. Beehler.

Teen-agers minus appetites are a rarity, and those in this cafeteria line are no exception to the rule. This is a common scene at Madison from 12:00 to 12:30 each day.

DUSTING

The janitors take time out from the labors of keeping M.H.S. clean to look over the latest edition of the Spotlight. Shown here are Mr. and Mrs. Kessler and Mr. Clark.

DRIVING AND DELIVERING

Wear and tear on the family car is eliminated by 14 capable bus drivers delivering 460 students at the school each morning at 8:20. Each evening they are safely returned to their homes. Rarely is the snow deep enough or the water high enough to keep the drivers at home.

WORKING

The art editor of the Madisonian is often busy making posters to advertise the subscription drive, a school activity, or the school paper. Here, Waldo Hutchinson arranges a poster on the main entrance bulletin board.

LOAFING

Combs and mirrors are basic stock in any girl's locker for in-between classes primping sessions. Caught in the act were Joan Truex, Marlene Slos, and Elizabeth Wagner.

PLAYING

In March of 1951 the Hi-Y put on a Minstrel Show. Here, some of the members of the cast may be easily recognized in their costumes. Jack Schmeltz was the interlocuter. Sponsor, Mr. Crutchfield, directed this activity.

Fans in Suspense as Madison Defeats South Bend Central, 72-56

Madison defeated South Bend Central. That was heard all over the state the day after Madison upset Central, 72-56, in the 1951 sectional tourney. The upset was so great that Madison even made the headlines of the Indianapolis Star. It was the first time in history that Madison conquered a Central team.

Madison literally outran Central, which is noted for its fast-breaking teams. At the end of the first half Madison led 31-29, but then they forged ahead on the sensational shooting of Jack Schmeltz to lead 54-43 at the end of the third quarter. Madison was never headed after that. Jack Schmeltz led Madison with 35 points before fouling out late in the game. Davis was high for Central with 17 points.

Before playing Central, Madison beat Greene, 77-48. In the semi-finals Madison outscored Walkerton, 59-52, only to be trounced by Washington-Clay with Don Schlundt, 76-49.

Wouldn't you be happy?

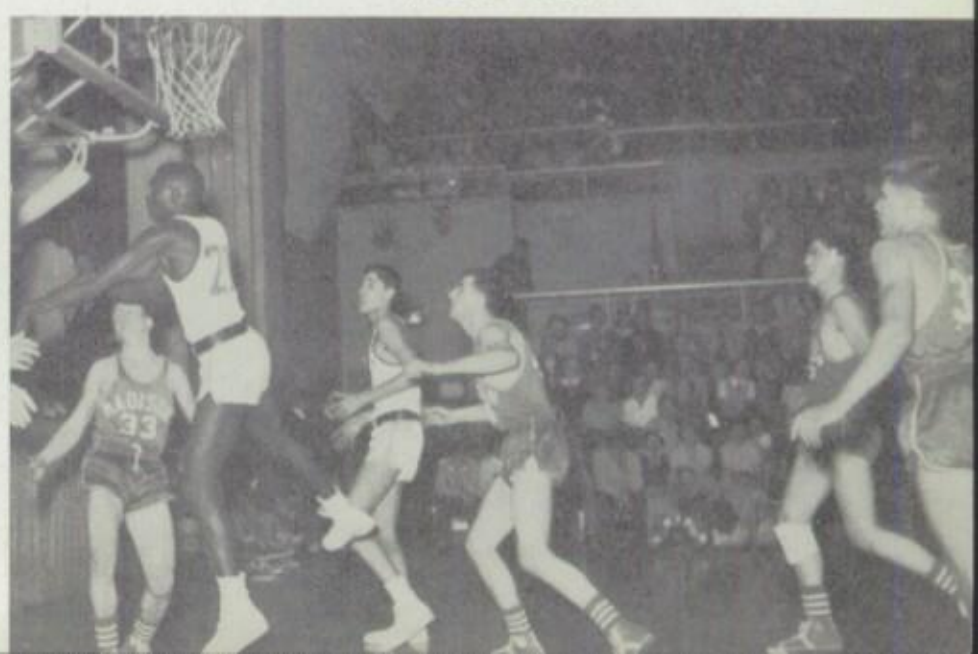
Whose Ball?



"Come on kids, let's give a big "Locomotive Madison".

Garbed in the familiar blue and white, Madison's cheerleaders, Shirley Billman, Jane Schurr, and Nila Marker, led our cheering section through a full season of 18 basketball games and the county and sectional tourneys. Madison's basketball fans will long remember their frantic pleas, "Come on you kids, let's YELL!"
